2. Eligibility

Open to currently enrolled undergraduate and postgraduate college students, including engineering, BCA, MCA and other eligible degree programmes. Any year, branch or department may participate. Inter-college participation is allowed. Participants must be below 21 years of age.

3. Team Formation

Each team must have 2-4 members. A participant may belong to only one team. Team composition cannot be changed after registration; members cannot be added or removed. Each team shall nominate a Team Leader as its primary contact.

4. Registration

Registration opens 18th September 2026 and closes 18th October 2026. Registration is through the official NextGen Buildathon website. Initial registration is free; shortlisted teams may be required to pay the announced participation fee. Registration is complete only after official confirmation. Participants must provide accurate information.

5. Domain Selection

Teams must select an announced domain and develop their submission within it. Domain changes, if permitted, must be made within the announced deadline.

6. PPT/Idea Submission

Required PPT/idea materials must be submitted through the designated platform within the announced deadline. Format, slide limit, naming and required sections will be communicated officially. Late or incomplete submissions may not be evaluated.

7. Shortlisting

Submissions will be reviewed using the announced evaluation criteria. Shortlisted teams will be notified through official communication channels and must complete subsequent requirements within the stated deadlines.

8. Payment

Any fee applicable to shortlisted teams will be communicated with payment instructions and a deadline. Teams must retain transaction proof where requested. Refund and cancellation conditions will follow the official payment terms. Failure to complete required payment by the deadline may result in loss of participation eligibility.

9. Offline Hackathon

The offline hackathon will take place on 26th and 27th November 2026 at Kempegowda Sports Complex, VVCE, Mysuru. Participants must follow the reporting time, schedule and venue instructions and bring required personal equipment such as laptops and chargers unless otherwise specified.

10. Development Rules

Teams must follow all technical rules announced for the hackathon. Open-source libraries, APIs, datasets and AI-assisted tools may be used where permitted and must comply with applicable licenses and event rules.

11. Originality & Plagiarism

Submissions must represent the team's own work, subject to permitted third-party resources. Plagiarism, impersonation, unauthorized copying, misrepresentation and submission of another team's work are prohibited. Previously developed components must be disclosed where required.

12. Intellectual Property

Participants retain ownership of original intellectual property they create, subject to third-party rights and licenses. Participants must have the right to use all third-party materials. Organizers may showcase project names, descriptions, screenshots, photographs and demonstrations for event documentation or promotion where appropriate consent is provided.

13. Evaluation & Judging

Projects will be evaluated using criteria announced by the organizers and judges, which may include innovation, technical implementation, relevance, feasibility, presentation and impact. Teams may be required to present and demonstrate their project. Judges may ask questions.

14. Disqualification

A participant or team may be disqualified for false information, plagiarism, cheating, unauthorized access or manipulation, serious rule violations, harassment, deliberate disruption, failure to meet mandatory requirements or other conduct affecting fairness or safety. Violations may be identified at any stage.

15. Code of Conduct

Participants must behave respectfully toward organizers, judges, mentors, volunteers and other participants. Harassment, discrimination, threats, abusive conduct, vandalism and disruptive behaviour are prohibited. College and venue rules must also be followed. Any violation of the code of conduct will result in disqualification with immediate effect, and the organizers' decision is final.

16. Safety & Responsibility

Participants are responsible for their belongings and equipment. Hardware and electrical equipment must be used safely. Participants must follow venue safety instructions and report safety concerns promptly. Travel and personal arrangements remain the participant's responsibility unless expressly provided by organizers.

17. Photography, Video & Media

Photography and video recording may occur during the event for documentation and promotional purposes. Participants may appear in event media. Where separate consent is required, an appropriate consent mechanism will be provided.

18. Privacy & Personal Data

Information collected during registration may be used for registration, communication, eligibility verification, shortlisting, payment verification, certificates and event administration. Handling of participant information will follow the event Privacy Policy.

19. Certificates & Prizes

Certificates will be issued to eligible participants according to the event policy. Prizes will be awarded subject to eligibility, verification and compliance with event rules. Prize details may be subject to official announcements and applicable sponsor or institutional conditions.

20. Event Changes / Cancellation

Organizers may make reasonable changes to schedules, venue, deadlines, judging or event arrangements when necessary. Significant changes will be communicated through official channels. In case of postponement or cancellation, applicable arrangements will be communicated separately.

21. Communication

Official communication may be sent through registered email, the official website and designated channels such as the event WhatsApp group. Team Leaders are responsible for receiving important information and communicating it to their teams. Participants must check official updates regularly.

22. Liability / Disclaimer

Participants are responsible for their belongings, devices, travel and equipment unless otherwise stated. Organizers are not responsible for interruptions caused by circumstances beyond reasonable control or third-party services. Nothing here excludes responsibilities that cannot legally be excluded.

23. Acceptance of Terms

By registering for NextGen Buildathon Chapter 2026, participants confirm that their information is accurate, have read and understood these Terms & Conditions and the Privacy Policy, and agree to follow official event rules and instructions.

> Draft note: Payment/refund, privacy, intellectual-property and media provisions should be reviewed by the authorized college/event organizers before publication.
